Daily Democrat

PRINTED AND PUBLISHED BY HARNEY, HUGHES & CO.

OFFICE—

South Side Green Street, two doors below the Customhouse.

WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 14. 1864.

NOTICE TO CITY SUBSCRIBERS.

The Daily Democrat delivered by carriers throughout the city will hereafter be at the rate of twenty-five cents per week, including the Sunday paper.

Important Notice.

Owing to the increased expense of every article used in the printing business, and an advance price of twenty-five per cent. on the expense of composition, we are compelled to increase the cost of the Daily Democrat. Hereafter the Daily, by mail, will be one dollar per month, or six dollars for six months, or ten dollars per year, always in advance.

Important to News Dealers.

We understand that General Sherman has issued an order by which any person who desires to sell papers at the front, thus destroying the monopoly which has so long inconveniences the army, and deprived it of a full supply of papers.

Persons can procure any number of papers at this office at the usual rate of three dollars per hundred; postage added, if by mail.

CITY NEWS.

APOLOGY.—Yesterday morning, between three and four o'clock, an accident occurred in our pressroom, by which the second page of our paper was pied. The paper had been put to press, but, owing to the breaking of one of the screws of the press, the form was thrown to the floor and rendered a complete wreck. This was an unavoidable accident, and our readers must excuse us for giving them such a small amount of reading matter yesterday.

Jefferson County Court.

MONDAY, September 12. George Durr had leave to erect a gate across the road leading from Middletown to Pope's Lick.

Ordered that the sheriff take charge of the estate of Mandeville Thum, and administer the same according to law.

Molvina Stewart selected George W. Carson as her guardian, who gave bond, with John Eads surety.

Rule vs. Dennis Davis to give additional surety as administrator of Thomas Doolan.

A. O. Durand qualified as notary public for Jefferson county on the 9th.

Joseph E. Able filed petition for license for a tavern at Middletown.

J. Conrad Schalt appointed administrator of Elizabeth Kennet; Mrs. Kaye, surety.

Commonwealth by Catharine Cavinney vs. Daniel Divine, on a charge of bastardy; dismissed for want of prosecution.

The will of Mrs. Caroline Kiffle was proved and admitted to record; Samuel A. Miller was qualified as administrator, with the will annexed; Dennis Long surety.

The will of Mrs. Susan B. Davis was proved and admitted to record; Mrs. Susanna Brown qualified as executrix, without surety, as requested by the will.

Inventory and appraisement of the estate of Ann Crawford was filed for record.

William L. House appointed guardian of Frances and Ernestine House; Presley House surety.

W. O. Logan appointed guardian of Abner and Belle Frederick; C. D. Frederick surety.

M. C. Page appointed administrator of John K. Frederick; C. D. Finley and H. M. Frederick sureties.

G. T. Bergman appointed surveyor of Jefferson county; J. W. Henning surety.

RATIFICATION MEETING IN NEW ALBANY.—The grand ratification meeting of the Democracy to-morrow in New Albany promises to be one of the largest political demonstrations ever held in southern Indiana. The people of the Second District are determined to give "a long pull, a strong pull, and a pull altogether," next November in favor of McCLELLAN and PENDLETON, who are for saving this Union and preserving the old Constitution, and the rights and liberties of the people. The following distinguished speakers are expected to be present: Hon. George H. Pendleton, Hon. Joshua F. Bell, Gov. Robinson, Hon. James Guthrie, of Kentucky, Hon. F. S. Sevier of New York, Hon. Emerson Etheridge, of Tennessee, and the Hon. A. Hendricks, of Indiana. The Hon. Joseph E. McDonald will be present if circumstances will permit. Our Hoosier friends invite everybody to be present to-morrow. The Portland cars, in connection with the New Albany ferry boat, will make regular trips every half hour until twelve o'clock at night, for the accommodation of those who may wish to go to the meeting.

CITY.—All quiet in front of the jail and court-room yesterday—not doing nothing.

It was a beautiful day, and our sidewalks were filled with ladies out shopping. The streets were dusty, as usual. We noticed an improvement on Third street: it is a new street from Main to the wharfboat, which is new, and a new steamboat lying alongside of that, with a newly married couple on board. Locomotives and trains keep First street in fast running order. Market was full of mud, watermelons and children. Broadway was full of fast horses and pretty girls. Other streets were rather dull. Business was not as brisk as usual.

Last night the places of amusement—both theaters, the fair, and jail—were filled. The city was quiet up to a late hour.

BARRACKS NO. 1.—Business was very brisk yesterday at the barracks. One hundred and twenty-five convalescents were received; also twenty-six recruits from Philadelphia and seven deserters from Lexington. One hundred and seven convalescents were sent to Nashville, six to Bowrington, seven to Munfordville, thirty-four to Lexington and three to New York city.

LEGION.—The Louisville Legion yesterday turned over their arms to the military authorities, and will be paid off to-day and mustered out of the service. Eighty-four members of this gallant old regiment had re-enlisted, and out of that number twenty of the brave were killed and wounded in the late Georgia campaign.

GOING HOME.—The gallant Ninth and Tenth Indiana regiments arrived from the front yesterday morning, having served their time out. They left yesterday afternoon for their homes in Indiana, where they will be welcomed with enthusiasm. "Brave boys are they."

NEW MUSIC.—We have received two new songs, published by Blackmar & Bro., New Orleans, entitled "My Southern Sunny Home," by Will Hays, of this city, and "The Bales," a comic song for cotton buyers to listen to. Messrs. Tripp & Cragg have them for sale.

A large train of sick and wounded arrived from Nashville last night.

WANTED.—A man to work on a farm near the city. Inquire at this office.

Thanks to J. G. Dugan, express messenger, for late Nashville papers.

The Races at Woodlawn Yesterday.
There was a fair attendance at Woodlawn yesterday, but not so large as we expected to see. The day was a most beautiful one, and the track was in excellent condition for fast racing. The horses for the first match—Maul Broux and Frank Armstrong—were brought on the track at the top of the hill, both looking in good trim. During the morning Frank Armstrong was the favorite in the pools at nearly two to one, but when the track was reached the betting changed, and the knowing ones began to invest their money on the mare.

For the first heat the horses got off well together, but before making the first turn Armstrong made a bad break, and the mare opened a considerable gap on him. When the horse was got down to his work he made for the lead, and succeeded in closing up the gap considerably, but the little mare was too fast and passed the string on the first mile in the lead in 2:50. On entering the second mile the driver of the horse used every effort to lead the lead, and at the three quarters pole he succeeded in lapping the mare, and in this way they ran until entering the home stretch, when the horse is thrown from his feet and the mare goes ahead, coming in first, and winning the heat in 5:37, the last mile being made in 2:40%.

After the usual time for cooling off had been allowed, the horses were called up for the second heat. This heat was well contested, the horse making several desperate efforts to win, but the mare proved too fast, and the winner of the heat and race in 5:40%. The first mile was made in 2:54 and the last in 2:40%.

There was an effort made to get up three match races between "Bettle" and "Pat," but the owners of the horses could not agree as to the amount to be run for.

A JOKE.—Rather a sleek looking individual named Jacob Swasy, who says he used to be a down-east schoolmaster, paid Chattanooga a visit recently, and, hearing that the "negro trade" was pretty good in this city, thought he'd come up and try his hand. He did. On the train coming from Nashville, night before last, he coaxed five sun-burnt Americans into the cars, and brought them to this city, under the pretense that he would set them free on the other side of the river. So he bid the sons of Ham, and made application to several citizens, who offered to buy the negroes for substitutes, but "down-east" wanted to sell, and the owners of the horses could not agree as to the amount to be run for.

A DRAMA.—The Democracy of Shelby county have met and spoken out for McClellan. Other counties have already spoken, and on the 17th instant, in response to a general understanding, hundreds and thousands of voters will meet to ratify the Chicago nominations. There is no mistaking the general sentiment—the minds of the people are made up; McClellan is their choice, and will be the next President. The vituperation and abuse that may be heaped upon him by the Abolition press only strengthens him in the contest. He stands forth pure and undefiled, and all that is wanting is for the election day to roll around, and the people will decide the master in his favor. On all sides there is general rejoicing over his nomination now, as there will be in November next over his election.

FOREIGN FACTS AND FANCIES.

Even in virtuous and honest England there exist those who make sport of the public property. The London Times has the following in regard to

ROBBING THE GOVERNMENT:

The discovery has been made that a system of robbery has for some time past been carried on at the large manufacturing establishment known as the Government clothing stores, and a number of non-commissioned officers and soldiers have been charged with possession of part of the stolen property. It appears that the frauds were first brought to light by a detective, and steps were then taken by the military police to search the residences of a number of Royal Artillery soldiers.

The result of this prompt action was that the suspected parties were found to have in their possession a number of serge, flannel, cloth, calico, leather, &c., unmanufactured military clothing in addition to a number of manufactured articles, the whole being bound with the broad arrow, and evidently Government property stolen from the clothing stores. At present, ten persons employed at the establishment are in custody, and a most searching investigation is being carried on, which it is believed, will result in the apprehension of other delinquents. A statement of the facts has been forwarded to the War Department, and a military court of inquiry will be instituted to report on the matter.

A Brussels journal speaks of a curious surgical operation just performed on the great African lion belonging to the Zoological Society of that city. It is all about

CUTTING A LION'S CLAWS.

We quote:

For some time past the animal has been suffering from disease of the feet, which necessitated the cutting of its claws. In order to do this without danger, a large box was prepared with a grated bottom, covered by a wooden floor, which could be withdrawn so as to allow the lion's feet to pass between the bars. The top of the box was also made to descend by means of screws, so as to prevent the animal and prevent it from drawing its feet. When the claws had been cut off, the lion turned on its side and the sliding bottom withdrawn. The paws then slipped between the bars and the screws above were tightened. M. Thiermase, assisted by five pupils of the Veterinary School, then proceeded to cut away the claws. The patient bore the operation tolerably well, only uttering a short roar occasionally, and seemed relieved when the first paw had been cut and dressed. A keeper, to whom the lion is much attached, sat near its head and endeavored to calm it by talking, evidently not without effect. The operation was successfully performed, and there is every reason to believe that the cure will be complete.

A HAPPY CITY.

Under Russian rule, Warsaw is becoming a city where the popular felicity is unequalled. A chapter writer says of it:

Warsaw has recovered the plentitude of life which belongs to great cities; it has the French theater; it has excellent acrobats in the Swiss Valley; it has music in the Jardin de Sax and the park of Larienski. Everywhere the public assemblies in great numbers; but more than elsewhere they meet once a week at the station of the railway from Warsaw to St. Petersburg.

The fashionable promenade association from four to eight thousand persons. There is much more than but of a particular kind; tears, &c., groans. This promenade, entertainment, amusement—call it what you will—is named the aedes with exiled political criminals. The fashion has been recently introduced by agitators. Although the day fixed for the departure of the convoys is always kept secret, each time the whole of Warsaw learns it through the night; at four in the morning, the precincts of the station are encumbered with a compact mass. Only some dozen or persons are banished at a time, and these assemble to bid them adieu. The police appear not to care about it.

A CURIOUS HARVEST.

A Vienna letter speaks of the crops in Austria finer than for fifty years past and then makes the following singular statement:

Contrary to all expectation, Hungary which last year suffered so severely from scarcity, will now be sure to have an abundant crop, and already many of the proprietors are offering the authorities to return the loans in corn which were made to them last year for their sowings. This may perhaps be explained by the fact that the land in those countries has lain fallow for a long time. On this subject some rather curious facts are mentioned. The peasants of the Wallachian country of the Banat, who are rather lazy, did not cultivate their ground, in consequence of the calamity of last year, because they had neither cattle nor seed. Nevertheless, in one of those districts where nothing was sown thirty-five thousand men (sixty-one litres each) of wheat have been produced. The seed sown two years ago, and which could not sprout last year on account of the drought, has this year grown up vigorously. That curious circumstance has inspired the people with very singular ideas. They have been heard to say, very seriously, that labor is not absolutely necessary, and that when God wills it, he makes rye and wheat spring up without the necessity of its being sown. In many places the clergy have been obliged to combat those ideas from the pulpit.

Mr. H. Coley writes to the London Telegraph: It may not be uninteresting to many of your readers to know that, whilst arranging some papers for Mrs. Rymer preparatory to her case coming on in November next in the Probate Court, I accidentally found, among other manuscripts, the following:

LONDON, Jan. 3, 1772.

Lord Chatham hereby agrees to indemnify Doctor James Wilmett for all the risks and dangers that the said Doctor J. Wilmett may be subject to in the continuation of the "Letters of Junius." Authorizing the payment of £170 to J. W., on account of printing and publishing the work.

(Signed)

CHATHAM.

From recent statistical returns of the mineral riches of France, it appears that the number of iron mines was 490, and of iron smelters 202. Of other substances there are 247 mines containing graphite, bitumen, rock-salt, antimony, manganese, lead, silver, copper, tin and zinc, isolated or in combination. The concessions of coal mines extend over 5,226 square kilometres (each 247 acres) in 47 different departments.

The mines of iron-stone embrace an area of 1,248 square kilometres, and lie in 21 departments.

—Shoeburyness, a few days ago, a target built in the exact model of French iron-clads, was submitted for trial, and was completely overpowered by the Armstrong gun. The ordinary 68-pounder pierced the 4½-inch plates, but not the decking; but the solid shell of the Armstrong gun shattered the target to pieces. The experiment was deemed conclusive that no wooden ships, clad with iron, as are "La Glorie" and "La Normande," could stand the force of such missiles as were employed on that day.

In the work of dredging a well in Bowes street, Tralee, County Kerry, the laborers have come upon some stones of grey spray. The specimens contain coal, lead, and crystals of what is called white iron. They have been brought from a depth of between five and six fathoms. It is understood that a scientific examination of the ground will be made.

£100,000 is said to have been lately offered for the London Tavern, a striking illustration of the value of property in the City of London.

The family house in which William Penn and his wife lived, in Philadelphia, was recently purchased by a citizen, and will soon be demolished.

Patents and Patent Laws.

An address to the Board of Trade of London, by Mr. Bright, has awakened in England considerable interest and attention. In his speech Mr. Bright maintained his assertion that he believed patent laws to be a positive hindrance to the development of the industrial arts, and the practical application of the laws of mechanics. This, as might be expected, raised a storm from every quarter where patents were owned, and every one interested in a patent that he believed his rights invaded, and saw his prospective wealth from the fruits of his monopoly vanishing into thin and misty air.

The question thus raised by Mr. Bright's speech is not a new one. We recollect that at a late discussion in the Societe des Economistes, of Paris, Michael Chevalier, who had just then returned from England, expressed the conviction that it were better for industry if patents did not exist. One of the commissioners of our own patent office, however, expressed the same idea, founded upon the number of useless and worthless patents then taken out, which never so much as reimburse to the inventors the expenses incident to their procurement. And it may fairly be assumed that the average of successful patents is certainly not more than one to the hundred.

It is doubtless true that some men make large fortunes by the holding of valuable patents. That Howe, Goodyear and Hoe have reaped immense profits from the monopoly which they enjoyed in the manufacture and sale of sewing machines, india rubber goods and printing presses, none will deny; but that is no more proof of the benefits of patent laws, and of the advantages of their existence to the public generally, than the fact that some few of the thousands who play in lotteries draw large prizes, is of the advantages of the lottery itself.

Upon principle, it would really be exceedingly difficult to give tolling, including every ship, will, it is supposed, be about 45 per cent.
